TENNESSEE POLITICS.—The settlement of the Simonton and Craig difficulty is thus explained:

New York, January 11.

To Editors and Agents—The public statement of Messrs. Halstead and Smith of the Western Associated Press, Manton Marble of the World, and for the United States and European Associated Press, that a compromise, honorable and satisfactory to all parties, had been effected, renders unnecessary any reply to the untruthful and silly statements of those who are seeking to convey the idea that we ever offered to abandon the field as General News Reporters. So far is this from being true, that the moment we consented to retire, the very existence of the New York Associated Press was, in the estimation of our friends, and in the estimation of at least two leading members of the New York Association, in our hands; we retired simply because we were tendered everything for which we made the United States and European Associated Press. It is understood and agreed that the Western Associated Press shall control all news matters, in the West and Southwest, and they have placed their business in the hands of my friend, George B. Hicks. The monthly contract for news reports for the benefit of the Bulletin and Alta California is to cease at the end of sixty days. Meantime, our newspaper friends at San Francisco will have the Associated Press reports at Chicago free of expense; and all newspapers that have taken our reports, South and West, are to receive the reports of the Associated Press upon as favorable terms, in every respect, as papers that have been receiving reports from the New York Associated Press. The most competent agents will be selected to serve the Associated Press. The New York Associated Press will not compete with us in commercial reporting, and we shall not compete with them in general news reporting. I am thoroughly well satisfied with my position, and am not in a condition to require the condolence of my friends or the public. We shall now proceed at once to organize an association for conducting the business of commercial news reporting by telegraph hourly between all the commercial cities in Europe and America; and for the transaction of this business we enjoy extraordinary telegraphic facilities, under long contracts with all principal telegraph lines of the world. D. H. CRAIG, General Agent.

THE DEAD OF THE YEAR.—The death roll of the year includes many names distinguished in politics, in the church, in authorship and in art. We note a few of them:

The ranks of the authors have been thinned. Frederika Bremer died at Stockholm early in the year; Jared Sparks at Cambridge in March; Louis Blanc in France in June; and Count Gurowsky at Washington in May.

Among the dead statesmen and political leaders are Daniel S. Dickenson, Lewis Cass, John Van Buren, Elijah F. Purdy, Moses F. Odell, James Humphrey, Senators Foot and Wright and Commodore Stockton. Prince Esterhazy died at Ratisbon in May, and Marquis d'Azeglio in Italy in January. In October M. Thouvenel closed his long and active career in France.

Gordon Cumming, the famous lion hunter, was accidentally killed in Scotland in March. Professor Henry D. Rogers, a distinguished savant, also died in Scotland in May. John Ross, chief of the Cherokee Nation, died at Washington in August.

The sculptor Gibson, died in Italy in January, seventy-five years old, and Sir Charles Eastlake, President of the British Royal Academy, died at Pisa just as the new year came in.

The most prominent clergymen who have died during the year are Drs. Cumming and Pise, of the Roman Catholic Church; Dr. Elliphalet Nott, President of Union College; Dr. Hawks, Dr. Whewell, and Rev. John Keble, in England, and "Father Prout," in Paris—the last named better known by his pseudonym than by the proper name of Mahony.

General Scott died at West Point on the 29th of May. Admiral Pareja, commander of the Spanish fleet in the Pacific, committed suicide. John S. Rarey, the horse tamer, died in Ohio in October. Robert B. Mintrum, one of our leading merchants, died on the 9th of January; Gerard Halleck at New Haven in the same month; Simeon Draper and Police Inspector Carpenter in November, and General S. R. Curtis in December.—N. Y. Post.

A PITTSBURG paper is trying to astonish people by telling of a little girl eighteen years old, who lived twenty-three days in a haystack, without food. That's nothing, remarks the Metropolitan Record. We know a young lady who has lived fifteen years on two quarts of pea soup, and half a pickle, every five years. Ten years ago she met with an accident which necessitated the amputation of both legs, and two years later her right arm was taken off at the socket. High living having brought on affection of the brain, the skull has been opened three times, the brains taken out, examined, repaired, and put back again. She has also had a good deal of trouble with her heart and kidneys, and these organs were removed last winter, renovated and then restored to their proper places. She had suffered eight years from gout, lost both eyes and half of her nose in an encounter with a panther, died twice of consumption and once of liver complaint, and is now enjoying better health than she ever had before. The Lacrosse Democrat remarks: We think the Record is a little ahead of Pittsburgh on tough young ladies. The smoky city editor will have to try again.

A BRILLIANT TEMPLE OF BACCHUS.—A $300,000 bar, restaurant and billiard establishment was opened at Cincinnati recently. It is called the "St. Lawrence." The site of the St. Lawrence is on the most valuable block of the most fashionable street in the city. The lot alone is worth $140,000. The bar and restaurant surpass all previous efforts there, and an imposing coup d'œil of plate glass, mirrors and costly marble, strikes one on entering. Even the cigar stand in one corner is a pretentious piece of architecture, and rents for $4,000 per year. The billiard room in the second story contains seventeen tables. It is as roomy as a first-class hall, and much lighter. The rent of the entire edifice is $40,000 per year. Whether Cincinnati will agree to do that much more eating, drinking and punching of ivory balls remains to be seen, with which happy and original phrase the "St. Lawrence" must be dismissed.

SALT WATER.—Each morning at the Paris station of the Western railway there may be seen great vats full of sea water, brought from Dieppe. This water is used for the aquaria, which increase in number in Paris. There is even now in Paris a merchant who deals in nothing but salt water.

Salt Lake City, November 5, 1866.

The "Howard Amendment."

In Wednesday's Vedette, we printed what is known as "Howard's Amendment," being certain amendments proposed by Senator Howard, of Michigan, to the bill by Senator Wade, for the suppression of polygamy. Just what may be the precise provisions of the original bill, introduced by Mr. Wade, of Ohio, we are unable to say, not having a copy of it, but from the character of its author we presume it is practically adapted to meet the evil it professes to eradicate. But of the "Howard Amendment" we are able to speak definitely, and we unhesitatingly express the opinion that it should not, in its present shape at least, receive the sanction of Congress. Laying aside, for the present, minor objections to some of its features, which we think would be found to be impracticable, if not in themselves injudicious, we find an insuperable objection to Section Twenty-one, which provides as follows:

"Sec. 21. That all criminal cases arising under said Act of 1862, (the Anti-Polygamy Act,) as well as all criminal cases arising under this Act, touching the solemnization of marriage, sealing or spiritual marriage, and being present at the ceremony of sealing herein mentioned, shall be heard, tried and determined by the District Courts of said Territory of Utah, without a jury, upon information to be presented to the Court by the Attorney of said Territory, as well as by the prosecuting Attorney of the County in which the offence is committed."

The balance of the section provides for the arraignment, trial and conviction or acquittal of the accused by the Court, and for an appeal to the Supreme Court on questions of law.

Now, we submit that no such law as that would stand the test of the Constitution in any County Court in the United States, much less in a District or Supreme Court of the United States. It is hardly necessary to call the attention of Senators and Representatives in Congress to Section 2 of Article III. of the Constitution, which prescribes that "the trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury;" or to Article V., of the Amendments, which provides that "no person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval force," &c.; or to Article VI., which says: "In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the State and District wherein the crime [illegible]." The Howard Amendment is too clearly in violation of all those Articles of the Constitution to require any other argument against it, than the statement of the proposition.

The adoption of such an amendment into the criminal law would only have the effect of rendering nugatory and void the whole statute, and prove, like the Act of 1862, a dead letter. It could not and ought not to be enforced. If polygamy, or any other evil, cannot be prevented without glaringly violating the Constitution then let it stand, or let the Constitution be remodeled. The day has long since passed when the doctrine that "the end justifies the means," was acceptable to either moralists or statesmen. We do not believe that this part at least of the "Howard Amendment," if seriously proposed, will ever receive the sanction of Congress; but if it does, we are entirely satisfied that it cannot be enforced in any Court of law in the land.

The law of July 3d, 1862, prohibiting polygamy, is a dead letter on the statute book, and cannot be enforced because no grand jury summoned, drawn, and composed of Mormons, who believe in polygamy as a religious institution above and beyond the law, will indict, or any petit jury, similarly composed, convict, however clear the evidence may be. Hence, plurality is taught and practiced, not only with impunity, but in very contempt of the law. Let Congress, if they desire to prevent and punish polygamy by law, do it in some lawful manner and not vainly attempt it by illegal means and in the very teeth of the Constitution itself. We have now one dead, ineffective statute on the subject, let not the record be further encumbured with more, for they only bring the authority of the Government into contempt, and enable the leaders of the people to laugh at and revile the laws.

The Legislature of Utah, in the exercise of its legislative functions delegated by Congress, has enacted laws prescribing the qualifications of jurors. These laws not only exempt, but absolutely disqualify a large class of citizens of the United States resident in Utah, and amenable to her laws, civil and criminal, from acting as jurors—namely, those who are residents, but not technically tax-payers. If the Territorial authority, the mere agent of Congress for legislative purposes, can thus prescribe qualifications for jurors, exempt some and rule out others at discretion, why may not Congress itself, the principal, do likewise? Yet we have never heard it objected that the Territorial Legislature exceeded its constitutional powers in the enactment of the laws referred to.

Without dwelling on this subject further at present, we express the hope and belief that Congress will not adopt the "Howard Amendment" as it now stands. Let us have something practical, constitutional and legal, or nothing.

Soap.—There is a soap stone quarry near Sonora, Cal., of the most extensive character and of the finest and most beautiful quality. It is owned and is being worked by Pease & Brown.

A delegation from Texas are at Washington urging the Legislature to act on the Pacific Railroad through Louisiana to El Passo and San Diego. The same project passed the House in 1860, and was about to pass the Senate when Texas withdrew from the Union.

It is expected there will be a disagreement on the tariff question in the Senate to pass a substitute to the House bill, which the House will refuse to accept.

[illegible] January 24.

Of twenty-six States represented in Congress, eighteen ratified and three rejected the Constitutional Amendment.

Both Houses of the Missouri Legislature passed a resolution urging Congress to repeal an Act appropriating money to pay for slaves who enlisted in the United States service.

The Kentucky Legislature is still unable to elect a Senator, and takes one ballot daily in joint session, the latest resulting as follows: Powell, Pro-slavery, 43; Hardin, Conservative, 48; Bristow, Radical, 39.

Havana, January 19.

The panic is over and all the banks but one have resumed specie payment.

President Johnson having retained the bill repealing the 13th section of the amnesty law, it becomes a law without his signature.

New Orleans, January 24.

The steamer Victor, arrived from Vera Cruz on the 19th, brought the remains of ex-Governor Allen. French transports had arrived and were expected to depart in a few days with French troops. A regiment of Egyptians had left on the French mail steamer.

Maximilian has issued another proclamation condemning in the strongest terms the conduct of General Sedgwick.

New York, January 24.

The excitement in Wall street is abating. Three heavy failures are reported. The Bank of North America held $250,000 in certified checks of a broker who failed.

President Johnson, of Yelverton, expired in a fit.

Senate.—Conness called up bill of the San Francisco Central Railroad, granting alternate sections. Stewart supported the bill and granted 29,000 acres, but no money; land not given until the road is finished. On motion of Edmunds, it was postponed till to-morrow.

The report of Ross Browne, 5,000 extra copies of which was ordered printed yesterday, estimates $106,000,000 as the gold and silver yield of California, Montana, Colorado, Nevada and Oregon during the year 1866.

Both French and Mexican flags wave over the Custom House at Vera Cruz. The Liberals are camped within twelve miles of Vera Cruz. No hostilities.

New York, January 24.

House—Kasson reported an Indian appropriation bill.

Schenck gave notice that he would report a bounty bill and ask for its immediate passage.

Bidwill, from Committee on Agriculture, reported a joint resolution to extend the provisions of the Agricultural College bill to Tennessee. Lebond wanted to know why there should be an exception in favor of Tennessee. Some debate [illegible] of Tennessee, replied to the former remark of Kelley, who had called the President an usurper, giving Kelley the lie. Kelley replied that Cooper had been a member of the President's household, under pay, and knew all secrets of his usurpation. Cooper admitted being a confidential friend of the President, and was glad of it, but had never received a dollar of the President's money, and when the gentleman of Pennsylvania says I was a paid agent, he lies again. (Sensation.)

Donnelly moved to amend the resolution so that no person should be employed in said College who held any civil or military office under the Confederacy. Adopted without division, by 116 to 35.

The House proceeded to the consideration of Stevens' Reconstruction bill. The galleries were crowded.

Raymond's speech, though opposed to the pending measure, was progressive, and favors the Congressional policy of the Constitutional Amendment, and advocated further guarantees of a similar character, among others providing against any future attempt at secession, which shall entail a forfeiture of the rights of any State attempting it. The Constitution should be construed with reference to progression and the wants of the nation, and to the preservation of the Government. The measure of restoration that would have sufficed eighteen months ago will not answer now; something stronger is needed.

Stevens indicated his intention to call up the bill to-morrow, and in view of the conflicting opinions of the Republican side, he would move to lay it on the table.

The House then went into a Committee of the Whole.

Morrill made a speech on financial questions. Morrill urged the reduction of paper currency, as demanded alike by the present business interests and the future return to a specie basis. He said it was shameful if we, being the largest gold and silver producing country, could not show other nations that we knew how to use our wealth. The immensity of our paper money circulation tends to spread, and induces extravagance in Congress and Executive Departments, as well as the people. The postponement of resumption will find our people less prepared and more deeply in debt, and the banks with paper discounts, and the credit system more expanded, so that we are in danger in the face of diminishing the revenues. No resumption on violent or abrupt condition would be advisable, but moderate and persistent contraction is advisable in order to restore health and vigor to languishing industries and build up our greatness as a nation upon an impregnable foundation.

In the Senate Grimes spoke against the tariff as being in the interest of two or three large manufacturing firms. Several amendments, including one to increase the duty on linseed and flax-seed, were rejected.

Indianapolis, January 24.

Governor Morton, having been elected Senator, has sent a message to the Legislature to-day resigning. Lieutenant Governor Conrad Baker was inaugurated to fill the balance of the Gubernatorial term.

Brownsville, January 20.

Juarez arrived at Durango on the 26th ult. and had imposed a fine of $21,000 and a monthly tax of $[illegible] to replenish his treasury.

Preparations are making at San Luis Potosi for the reception of Juarez, who will establish the seat of Government in that Territory.

A. J. Meyer & Co., brokers, failed, and their account at the Bank of North America is overdrawn to the amount of two hundred and nineteen thousand dollars.

Pardons.—A Democratic paper says that Andrew Johnson is [illegible] strong convictions. The Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin says he's much stronger on pardons.

FROM THE WEST.

[From the Virginia Union.]

San Francisco, January [illegible]

The Board of Health and the Quarantine officer, after a thorough investigation, are satisfied that there is no contagious disease on board the steamship America [illegible] ly at their meeting last evening [illegible] the passengers [illegible] fully and safely be done. [illegible] gers were landed this [illegible] steerage passengers will be landed to-morrow. The ship and her baggage and furniture will then be thoroughly fumigated, and when she shall have been so thoroughly cleansed as to remove all danger of spreading the seeds of disease [illegible] will be permitted to come to the wharf. The [illegible] on Angel Island [illegible] have been reported, [illegible] sick are said to be rapidly recovering. The shores at North Beach and Meiggs' Wharf [illegible] crowded with people yesterday and this morning, most of whom had friends on board the quarantined ship, whom they were anxious to see. The passengers who came on shore to-day were brought up by the steam-tug Goliah and landed at Broadway Wharf. Not the slightest danger is apprehended by the physicians who have investigated the matter, of the cholera breaking out on land.

The Pacific Distillery at Black Point was partially destroyed by fire this morning. It was owned by Schultz & Voorman, and was uninsured. About $2,000 worth of material was destroyed, and the entire damage to machinery, building and from the destruction of material will not fall short of $10,000; while the operations of the establishment will be suspended for at least a month. The cause of the fire is unknown, and the mystery is increased from the fact that no fire had been used in the room where it first broke out.

Bank Robbery.—The Landmark, of Platte City, has the following account of the recent bank robbery in that place:

On the night of the 3d of January, 1867, the vault of the Farmer's Saving Association at Platte City, was entered and its contents appropriated.

The Bank occupies what was formerly the Probate office, and they have expended some two thousand dollars in constructing a safe depository for money. A large iron vault weighing four thousand pounds, with two doors, is inclosed with a thick brick wall. The outer door opens with a combination lock, by letters. The inner door opens by a key. This key was carried by Mr. Paxton and he alone understood opening the outer door. Within the vault were placed the large burglar proof safe and a small ordinary safe. The former had a very superior combination lock, opening upon numbers. The small safe opened by a key, which was also carried by Mr. Paxton. The large safe could be opened by Mr. Tribble, the Cashier, or Mr. Merryman, one of the Directors. The evening before the robbery some deposits were made, and, as the large safe was locked, they were placed in the small safe. A larger amount was accessible to the thieves on that night than usual.

Upon the night of the robbery there was a party in town which did not break up until about 2 o'clock. Several persons passed in front of the bank and saw nothing unusual, the thieves having taking the precaution to blind the windows; but those passing in the rear, observed a light. No one slept on this night, either in the bank or the adjoining offices. The next morning, Mr. Paxton came as usual to the bank; the front door was closed, but the key refused to turn. He turned the bolt and the door opened. His first thought was that he had failed to lock the door the night before, but when his eye fell upon the open back door, the open vault, the small safe in the middle of the room, and papers scattered over the floor, he became conscious of the situation. After taking a hasty survey, and seeing that the large safe was [illegible]

Both doors of the bank had been forced open with a crowbar. Sledges, hammers, wrenches, tongs, chisels, punches and bolts were left by the burglars lying about the room. They had forced open the door of the small safe, and had extracted its valuable contents. They declined taking revenue stamps and county warrants, and even left a valuable gold watch. They knocked off the knobs and handles from the two vault doors, and drove in and broke the bolts. Having effected an entrance, the small safe was removed out into the room and forced open. They broke off the knobs and handles of the large safe, and with fuse and powder attempted to blow it open. In this they failed, and the hard chilled steel of which the safe is made resisted effectually all efforts to cut into it. The lock, however, was so injured that the officers cannot open the safe.

The bank lost $1,559.90 in currency, Mr. Paxton lost $300 in Union military bonds, and Mr. Merryman lost $75 in gold. About $14,000 were in the large safe.

The safe and contents have been sent to St. Louis, and in the meantime the business of the bank will go on without interruption.

The Nevada Election.—The closing scene in the joint convention of the Nevada Legislature is thus depicted by the reporter of the Gold Hill News:

When his name was called Mr. Lissak rose and said: I wish to make an explanation about my vote. [Cries of "I object!" and "Leave!"] The question was put, and leave was granted.

Mr. Lissak—When I arrived here my purpose and intention were to vote for Mr. DeLong at the first and to the last. But when I saw on yesterday the honorable gentlemen, the Democrats, all going in solid column to my side, I thought it was time for me to leave them. [Applause in the lobby. The President stated that a repetition would be the signal for its being cleared]. Twenty years ago I became de facto a Republican, and I was and am a Black Republican of the darkest dye. A Union man during the war, from the innermost of my heart, and a Radical among Radicals, I do not wish to renew the company, politically, of these gentlemen. If, on yesterday, Mr. Winters had been in the field, I would have voted for him, but, there being no alternative, I will cast my vote for James W. Nye.

Mr. Dorsey (excitedly)—And I pray God that his associations and name shall never be——

The President—The gentleman will come to order.

Mr. Grey moved that the lobbies be cleared —Mr. Hutchins objecting—and the motion was put and lost.

When his name was called Mr. Swaney rose and said: With leave I rise to explain my vote.

Leave was granted.

Mr. Swaney—This morning I went to Mr. DeLong and told him my conscience would no longer allow me to vote for him under the existing circumstances; therefore, I cast my vote for James W. Nye.

The calling of the roll was proceeded with and finished, when, it appearing that James W. Nye had a majority, the President declared him elected United States Senator for the term of six years, from the 4th of March next.

An Ohio editor seems to be afflicted that he was born in New England. We have no doubt that the devil is mortified that he was born in Heaven.—Prentice.

Deep Shafts.—The Bonner shaft of the Gould & Curry Company is now about 750 feet deep, the sinking of it deeper having been recommenced a week ago last Monday, after a cessation of [illegible]. Three shifts of men—six men to a shift—are pushing forward, or rather downward, the work, with [illegible] and it will not be long before [illegible] feet deep. The hoisting [illegible] machinery is of sufficient [illegible] of sinking to the depth of [illegible]. The fifth level of the [illegible] opened, and the future [illegible] company are very flattering. [illegible] of depth is the new shaft [illegible] and Empire Companies, which has [illegible] the depth of 740 feet, and is being rapidly sunk deeper. The present machinery will carry it to the depth of [illegible] 1,000 feet. The Curtis shaft of the Savage Company is now about 450 feet deep, sinking being recommenced last Monday, after having been discontinued for about a year. The hoisting and pumping machinery used is the most powerful for the purpose in the State, the largest engine being a beam engine of 250 horse-power, and every portion of the machinery being of a correspondingly powerful and substantial description. Either of the three shafts above mentioned will be at least 1,000 feet deep this fall. The Chollar-Potosi new shaft is 700 feet deep, but is not being sunk deeper at present. The shaft of the Bullion Company is also 700 feet deep, and not being sunk deeper. The Ophir-Mexican shaft is about 620 feet deep, and sinking is discontinued for the present in order to open a tenth level, 60 feet below the ninth or lowest level of the mine. This shaft, as well as that of the Hale & Norcross Company, is not in the right place. Both the companies should remove their works down hill, same as the Gould & Curry, Savage and Chollar-Potosi Companies have done, in order to conform to the dip of the lode to the east, as well as to take advantage of the descent of the hill. In which operation the Gould & Curry Co., for instance, gain 200 feet, the top of the Bonner shaft on D street being 200 feet below the level of the croppings of the ledge. With such deep shafts going down, and in view of the large bodies of rich ore found of late in the Hale & Norcross and the Savage, we may well feel encouraged over the future prospects of the Comstock ledge, and consequently of Virginia and of our Silver State generally.

Nye's Re-election.—We haven't seen so much real, irrepressible hilarity in Carson for many and many a day, as was manifested after it was announced that Nye was elected. Almost everybody, even some of the DeLong men and the Democrats took part in the general jollification. After the vote had been declared and the re-election of Senator Nye was a fixed fact, a committee of his friends waited on him and escorted him to the Capitol, where he made a brief and appropriate speech to the members of the Legislature, thanking them for the honor they had bestowed upon him. We were in his apartments, at the Ormsby House, when he got the good news. The [illegible] herald came in and [illegible] ing him in his hearty embraces. Men shook hands and hugged one another as if there had been a general birth of first born sons to anxious and expectant fathers. A party of gentlemen of all persuasions soon gathered around the Senator, and speeches were made, songs were sung, champagne was drank, hats were tossed up, and everybody went on like mad. The Enterpe Band came blowing "We'll all drink stone blind when Johnny comes marching home;" the bells were rung; the flags were hoisted; women got uproarious as well as men; everything was lovely and the goose hung amazingly high, and there was no end to the fun and the joy. Tom Fitch was mounted in a chair and he made a tip-top little speech; Lissack was coerced into showing himself, and in response to some very well turned remarks, he was cheered to the echo; Mr. Winters was introduced, and said some very happy things; Governor Slingerland appeared and made a neat little speech; John Dorsey spoke some words for the Democratic party, and Frank Proctor with a mashed plug hat on, represented the only living head of that faintly struggling and partially defunct relic of the past. These are some of the thousand incidents which occurred in honor of the event, and in the evening, a party of ladies and gentlemen met at the Ormsby House to congratulate the Senator and to express their mutual gratification at the glorious result.—Carson Appeal.

Agricultural Specimens Sent to Washington.—The steamer Golden City, which sailed this morning, says the Bulletin of the 10th, took samples of the following agricultural products for exhibition in the Department of Agriculture at Washington, viz: Spirits turpentine from Butte county, given by Cameron, Whittier & Co.; California figs, Sonoma county, by Cummings & Maxwell; French prunes, grown in Petaluma, by C. H. Weston & Co.; canary bird and millet seed from Alameda county, by J. P. Sweeney & Brother; poppy heads and hops from Yuba county; flaxseed and canary bird seed, from Santa Cruz county; white mustard seed from Santa Clara county; and borax from Lake county, from Crane & Brigham. There were also sent samples of red and white wine, from Mr. Craig, of Sonoma Valley. Among these samples are two of red wines made from the Black Zinfindel grape, one of which has been heated to 148 degrees Fahrenheit, in accordance with the new French theory. Samples of brandy made by N. Carrigner, of Sonama Valley, were also forwarded. One of the latter was made from wine, and is sent uncolored, just as it came from the still. The other was made from "piquette," a second pressing of the pummace, mixed with water, and slightly colored by parched dried peaches. The above are the last specimens that will probably be sent by the correspondent of the Department of Agriculture this season. A report of all the samples sent may be expected in the monthly report of the Department for February. We learn that application has been made to the Department to send, if possible, the following trees, plants, and seeds for propagation in California, viz: Spanish olives, Sicilian sumach, Calabria liquorice, French teasels, Bordeaux prunes and Cork acorns; also, whatever new varieties of seeds or plants may have been received from foreign countries up to the time of sending. Our climate and soil admit of the growing of any plant or fruit known in Europe, and many of them could no doubt be profitably raised here if the Department would only take the necessary trouble to send for distribution.

Drowned.—The Gold Hill News of January 18th, says:

Miss Nathan, a young lady aged about twenty years, residing at Grass Valley, was drowned in a well of water lately. She resided with her brother-in-law, B. Gad. About six o'clock in the morning the inmates of the house were aroused by her screams. Gad went to the well and let down the bucket, but she did not grasp it, and before any one could be lowered to her assistance, life was extinct. Miss Nathan came out from Germany some six months ago. Since her arrival she has been sick a considerable part of the time. On Monday night, January 14th, her friends thought she acted strangely. She got out of her bed-room window and reached the well in that way, but it is not known whether she committed suicide or whether she fell in by accident.

Severe.—The Grass Valley National, whose editor recently visited the National Capitol on an Indian raid, says: "General James A. McDougall is the most popular man in Washington." We have had some bad accounts of the condition of society in the neighborhood of the White House, but this is the severest thrust at Washington morals we remember to have seen in print.

Local and Miscellaneous.

ADVERTISERS.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer newspaper of Utah. Its patronage throughout its mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers, makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four Territories.

URFET.—Our sleighing season has commenced again, and with it all the varied joys which contribute to the amusement of the public. As the first, we note down the awful upset of Mr. Clawson, who, turning a little short around the corner, "dumped" himself and his companion in the snow. Blankets, robes, horse, sleigh, and the other appendages were distributed around the street in the most promiscuous confusion. We are pleased to announce the fact that nobody was hurt, and would advise more careful driving.

ILL GOES ON.—The practice of giving notice to leave is still in practice. A Mr. somebody received his notice a few days since, and in obedience leaves to-day. We suppress the name by request, but note the circumstance to show that the practice is still in vogue.

CKET?—The friends of a venerable Judge are anxious to know the name of the female that will accompany him when he leaves for the East. She is said to be a young and interesting creature.

URSIDED.—The excitement in San Francisco, in relation to the approach of the cholera, has subsided. The report was exaggerated, but all proper steps were taken to prevent its entering the port by last steamer.

ORTING BET.—Two well known citizens have made a wager on the number of rabbits killed in one day's shooting. The killing comes off early next week.

F FACTS OF HUMAN LIFE.—There are with 1,000,000,000 inhabitants, and of these 33,333,333 die every year, 91,824 every day, 3,730 every hour, and 60 every minute, or one every second. These losses are about equalled by an equal number of births. The married are longer lived than the single. Tall people live longer than shorter ones. Women have more chances of life in their favor previous to being fifty years of age than men, but less afterwards. The number of marriages is in the proportion of 75 to every 100 idividuals. Marriages are most frequent after the summoxes; that is, during the months of June and December. Those born in the spring are generally more robust than others. Births and deaths are more frequent by night than by day. The number of men is about equal to that of women. The average duration of life is about 33 years. Of every 1,000 persons only one reaches 1000 years; of every 100 only six reach the age of 65; and not more than one in 500 lives to 80 years. The number of languages spoken in the world amounts to 3,064, and there are more than 1,000 different religions professed.

R GOVERNOR FOR WASHINGTON TERRITORY.—The following appeared in the Alta of January 13th:

Olympia, January 12.

The newly appointed and, as asserted, duly commissioned Governor, George E. Cole, formerly delegate to Congress from Washington Territory, arrived on the 8th instant. Governor Pickering, the present incumbent, declines time for investigation, and deems it inexpedient to hastily transfer the archives and authority to Governor Cole. The Legislature appointed a joint committee to welcome and inform the new Governor that both Houses were met and were now prepared to receive any communication he wished to offer.

General McKenny, appointed Superintendent of Indian Affairs for this Territory, arrived with his family last week.

HANDSOME young Yankee peddler made love to a buxom widow in Pennsylvania. He accompanied his declaration with an allusion to the impediments to their union. "Name 'em," said the widow. "The want of means to set up a retail store." They parted, and the widow sent the peddler a check for ample means. When they met again the peddler had married and stocked his store, and the widow, a fair one begged to know the other impediment. "I have another wife!" cried the jubilation dealer.

BULLION.—Since the opening of the mine of the Twin River Company, the quality of the bullion has greatly improved. Its first bullion ran about 700 fine, but its later workings exceeds 900 in fineness. We saw at the assay office of Boalt & Stetefeldt this morning four large bars of bullion from that mill, the average fineness of which was 930. The bars contained about 7,000 ounces, which at the rate of $1 25 per ounce, will give the handsome sum of $8,750.—Reese River Reveille 30th instant.

D.—To-day, says the Reese River Reveille of the 19th instant, Major R. A. Sherwood transmitted the amount of the Gridley subscription with a very handsome letter, to Governor Blasdel, asking his immediate and active co-operation in the worthy cause. The friends of Gridley will be glad to learn this.

OD REASON.—A good reason for thick boots.

y, I cannot think," says Dick,
t makes your ankles grow so thick."
do not recollect," says Mary, great big calves they have to carry."

ble speech at Manchester, England, Stanley related a story of an admirably educated man in jail, who by extra work managed to lay by a respectable sum, which on release he immediately proceeded to invest in a set of housebreaking tools.

ttle plague in England has turned the attention of farmers to raising and keeping goats' milk. In ancient days these animals were kept in large flocks, both for meat and milk, and the flesh of a young kid was highly prized.

RD.—A man named J. Underwood was drowned, January 4th, in the Columbia River while attempting to cross in a canoe from White Salmon, Oregon. His squaw was saved.

ANTHONY is supposed to have alluded to Miss Dix's coiffure when he exclaimed, "Oh! I see what was there," etc.—Boston Post.
